SUMMARY

I am a highly motivated and energetic Finance & Accounting graduate with a Master's degree in the field and over a decade of diverse experience spanning Personnel Management, and Accounting in Logistics. My educational journey began at the Military Academy, where I majored in Public Administration, combining military discipline with a strong foundation in communication, human relationship management, and innovative business thinking. During my 10 years of service as a military officer, I managed critical and high-stakes situations, which honed my crisis and stress management skills, enabling me to make decisive choices under pressure conditions. This experience, combined with my academic background, has cultivated my ability to adapt, lead, and execute complex tasks effectively.
